

ALLIES REPLY ON DISARMAMENT

Text of Time Limit Not Given Out—Definitely Stated Conference Will End Monday With Another Probable.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Spa, Belgium, July 8.—Following a night conference with the Germans, allied experts met this morning and drew up a formal reply to the German counter proposals on disarmament. It was stated that the answer gives definite reply to Germany's request for fifteen months in which to disarm. M. Hymans, of the Belgian delegation, was authorized to address the German delegation in the name of the allies at this afternoon's session of the conference, demanding a report on the trials of the German war criminals.

When the statesmen assembled at noon the Germans were informed that the allied experts had not yet completed their work and the meeting was postponed until 3:30 o'clock. The text of the allies' disarmament answer was finished at 12:30 and was then ready for delivery to the German delegates.

It was definitely stated that the Spa conference will end Monday as Premier Millerand must return to Paris early next week. It is unlikely that the indemnity question will be settled by that time making another conference necessary.

GERMANS HAVE MILLION IN ARMS

Allies Believed To Be Ready To Give Them Six Months To Disarm—Little Chance of Spa Conference Breaking Up For Several Weeks.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Spa, Belgium, July 8.—The fourth formal session of the Spa conference with both allied and German delegates present began at noon today to hear the allies' answer to Germany's counter disarmament proposal.

While the Germans asked for fifteen months in which to reduce their army to 100,000 men, and destroy war materials in accordance with the treaty terms, it was reported that to-day's meeting opened that Germany disarm within six or eight months. This would be a concession to Germany for, under the old terms, the Germans should have carried out the allies' disarmament demands by the middle of this month.

It was understood that Premier Millerand and Premier De la Croix of Belgium, were in complete accord with the British Prime Minister on the length of time that should be given to Germany to disarm herself.

There was every indication today that the conference would continue until the end of the week and perhaps later. The British delegates said the sessions may last until next month, but the French delegates were hopeful that they could finish by Sunday.

There was little likelihood of a break off. The Germans were frank in admitting that they have great masses of men under arms, the number being put at more than 1,900,000.

Edouard insists that the French shall not "abandon their legitimate financial demands."

"The engagements undertaken by Germany at Spa are valuable only if she is freed to keep them," said Ruffin.

JULIA CARRANZA ACCUSES OBREGON

Says Death of Mexican President Was Coolly Carried Out by Herrero Under Orders—Has Father's Clothing, Says Protest to U. S.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, July 8.—Julia Carranza's protest against "the assassination" of her father, the late General Venustiano Carranza, and charging General Obregon with responsibility for the Mexican president's death, was filed with the state department today.

The protest, it was stated, was laid before the department by Senator Ignacio Bonillas, former Mexican ambassador at Washington. The document is to be brought to the attention of Acting Secretary of State Davis before the latter arranges another appointment with the Mexican commission, Senator Iglesias Calderon, now here urging recognition of the new Mexican regime.

The protest of Carranza's daughter, forwarded from San Antonio, Texas, is a thousand word statement branding as "farcical" the versions of Carranza's death given out from Mexico City.

"Who legally constituted government is established in my country and justice is not administered by blood-stained hands, I will present to the courts all the proofs that are necessary and demand the punishment of those responsible for the death of my father," read the protest. "I have not only the clothing of my father, but proof that Herrero received instructions to proceed as he had done, committing the dreadful crime with all coolness."

Until Acting Secretary Davis has read the document no official of the state department would say just what the department would do with the daughter's protest.

Wright, former assistant cashier of the First National Bank, who was arrested charged with the larceny of $10,000 worth of Liberty Bonds from the Bank District Attorney Edward K. Haas said he has found that Wright had notes in the Mechanics and Metals National Bank of New York city totalling more than $57,000 and secured by bonds from different corporations with which Wright was connected. Wright's counsel asked Justice Morechauser to fix bail for the accused, but this was refused because the definite amount of Wright's alleged shortages was not known. Wright was treasurer of the W. A. Lawrence Company and the Wright Auto Service Corporation. His parents recently advanced him $100,000 in real estate. It was said.

DYER DEFENDED IN COMMONS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, July 8.—General R. P. M. Dyer, whose troops shot down nearly 600 Indians at Amritsar, in the Punjab, in April, 1919, was defended in the House of Commons today on the ground that he was upholding British authority.

General Dyer was condemned by an army council for ordering his men to fire upon the crowds in the streets of the Indian city. A report was made, following a long government investigation and was under debate in Commons today.

General Dyer itemized his defense. He declared that he had reason to believe that the Indian mobs intended to challenge British authority, and felt that, if he shirked the challenge, the Indian people would hold the British government in derision.

General Dyer said that there was much unrest and he feared the mobs might take matters into their own hands, killing all Europeans in Amritsar, including women and children.

U. S. MAY NOW TRADE WITH ALL

Except For Minor Restrictions As To War Materials—Trade With Soviet Russia Is At Shippers' Risk—Order Canceled By British and French Activity.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, July 8.—The state department order effective today which lifts the ban on trading between American ports and Soviet Russia, also removes most of the restrictions on trade with all other countries of the world. As in the case of Soviet Russia, however, no article or commodity which could be construed as war material may be exported to Hungary, Austria, Bulgaria, Turkey, China or Mexico without a special export license, and the department announces that such license will be issued "only in exceptional cases."

The state department announcement does not go into detail as to what shall constitute the "exceptional case" in which permission would be granted to export such commodities as arms, aircraft, munitions, warships, etc., to the countries designated, but it does specify conditions under which locomotives, rolling stock, motor cars and other commodities not directly connected with war, may be consigned to Soviet Russia and countries formerly associated with the Central Powers.

In general persons wishing to export this latter class of commodities must prove to the satisfaction of the department of state that the articles in question are destined for civil purposes only.

Two factors, it was learned on high authority today, entered into the department's decision to abandon its policy of non-intercourse, namely, the action of Great Britain and France in dealing with Krasin, and the growing conviction that a sub rosa trade has all along been in progress from the United States to Soviet Russia through the medium of Estonia, Finland, Latvia and the Scandinavian countries. It has also been known for some time that practically all the allied countries have been for months carrying on trade with the Lenin government and that the allied authorities have tacitly encouraged this trade. Trading will be done at the shipper's risk, it was stated.

This means that the power of the government cannot be invoked to collect for shipments from Russian firms.

The decision of the state department, it was stated today, will not effect the status of L. A. C. K. Martens, unrecognized soviet ambassador to the United States.

CENTRAL HUDSON HAS RECORD YEAR

The Central Hudson Steamboat Company will close this season with the most prosperous year in the line's history. Never have the freight shipments been larger than they are this season. The Kingston freight office has been kept busy all season handling the largest amount of freight in its history. Both up and down river freights are running heavy, and it has been found impossible to load and unload the steamers so that they could leave on schedule time.

Watkins was taken to Saugerties in an automobile by Under Sheriff Haulenbeck and Jailer Robert Every. The information on which the warrant was issued was sworn to by District Attorney Traver, who arraigned Watkins.

His legal rights were explained to Watkins, who said that ex-Mayor William D. Brinnier of this city was his attorney. Grant M. Brinnier of Saugerties was present and said that his father desired an examination on Friday afternoon. The matter was accordingly adjourned until that time.

The gun with which Watkins shot Brown and which he afterwards threw into the underbrush north of Malden, has not yet been found.

LIVELY BUNCH AT CAMP KANAKE

Camp Kanake, the Boy Scout Camp for the Scouts of Ulster County, opened with great enthusiasm on Monday, July 5th. A lively bunch of Scouts is present, all counting on a good time during the two weeks they will be in camp. Some of the boys are planning to stay for the entire camping season of two months.

There is room in the camp for more boys. Any Scouts who are intending to attend the camp and can come at this time will find it to their advantage to do so as there are a smaller number of boys present than there will be later and the executive is able to give each boy more individual attention than he can when the camp is more crowded. All Scouts are urged to attend for the full two weeks if possible but any boy who cannot possibly come for two weeks will be allowed to come for one week provided there is room in the camp for all who desire to attend.

Boys coming by way of Kingston should come to West Shokan in Mr. Winne's bus. The camp is four miles from the village, in Watson Hollow. The way is marked at the entrance to Watson Hollow. Scouts may hike to the camp, leaving their baggage at the store to be sent for, or the executive will meet them if they send word that they are coming. As the bus arrives at a very inconvenient time for him to leave camp, Scouts may have to wait at the store till he can meet them.

Boys wishing to register for the second, third, or fourth period should send in their applications as soon as possible. The camp is limited in size and if there are more boys wishing to come in any period than can be cared for, they will be entered in the order in which the applications were received. The extra boys being shifted to another period if possible, or else being deprived of a chance to attend. Send all applications to Scout Executive Muhleman, Camp Kanake, West Shokan, New York.

EVEN BETTER DAYS AHEAD SAYS COX

Our Greatest Prosperity Just Beyond Threshold—Avoids Politics in Talk to Fellow Golfers—Time For Business Men to Run Government.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Dayton, O., July 8.—Like the soldier who has caught the smell of powder on the eve of battle and is impatient to get into the fray, so Governor James M. Cox, Democratic presidential nominee, finds himself juggling at the traces while waiting to jump into the campaign with all the physical and mental strength in his possession.

The strain he is laboring under was demonstrated in his speech before the Dayton County Club last night before the 600 golfers participating in the state tournament here. While the talk was extemporaneous, Governor Cox had deliberately planned to make no reference to politics and confined himself to golf entirely. Toastmaster Lee Warren James, toastmaster of the conference, introduced Governor Cox as the patron saint of the Ohio Golf Association and immediately connected up politics with the meeting by adding that the governor would be the patron saint of the United States next November if not defeated by Senator Harding.

The presidential nominee prefaced his remarks with the explanation that his assignment had been made long ago and that he had made up his mind to appear regardless of whether he would wear crepe or ribbons.

He spoke of the intimate relations existing between Harding and himself as fellow newspaper publishers and golfers. He recalled the meeting of the Ohio dailies last winter in which they were both proposed as the respective candidates of the two parties and added:

"Who knows but what the two editors and golfers arranged the whole thing between themselves and were playing the game together."

He then became serious and told them regardless of what the result might be in November, Warren Harding and he would be the same good friends they have always been for years. Then followed a talk on the game, part of which is as follows:

"Every man is a law unto himself in the game of golf. The man who can concentrate on the game, to the exclusion of everything else, is bound to be a great golfer. It is also true that the man who can cease to be shy of the little white ball will also be successful as a player."

"I am sure we have all observed how much better we play in the morning than in the afternoon, particularly since a year ago this month," at this point the governor stopped, smiled and then proceeded:

"My experience has taught me that when I get on thin ice it is better to pass over to another subject, so I will tell you about competition. Without competition the game of golf would not have produced really great players. I like competition and it is absolutely necessary that we have it in order to have good government."

"Competition stirs up the liver of the individual, revitalizing him and this is also true of competition in government. A government campaign is nothing more or less than a great university which brings out the genius within its ranks. It is time that this great country should attract the genius of the commercial world to the ranks of government. We have too long been accustomed to lifting our heads once every four years from the business ledger to put our eyes on the flag. We need more men of brains. Ordinarily any man worth while who seeks public office does so from a sense of pride."

"It is natural that the sense of preference should appeal to every man."

"I am not one of those who believe that because we are living in a restless age things are going to pop. I believe the greatest prosperity we have ever experienced lies just beyond the threshold. Things are bound to come out all right particularly when we develop the best of good fellowship through such games as golf."

"I recognize that among you are men of the various political parties and in closing want to say that no race that grows is quite so sweet as the one that lays its petals just over the party wall."

Immediately after his conference with the editors of his paper at 10 o'clock this morning, the governor will go to his farm at Jacksonboro this afternoon for a rest.

SAYS RECREATION PREVENTS CRIME

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Jamestown, July 8.—A plan to keep boys and girls out of jail and reform schools was presented by Dr. O. F. Lewis of the Prison Association of New York at this morning's session of the annual meeting of city officials of the State. Dr. Lewis asserted that juvenile delinquency can be reduced in every city through the study and understanding of local conditions, through the development of attractive and constructive substitutes and through the team work of local forces.

After declaring that good, clean, constructive recreation is one of the best crime substitutes, Dr. Lewis said:

"Let us never forget that in trying to combat delinquency, that for the multitude of beginners in delinquency, delinquency is attractive. If this were not so, there would not be so much delinquency. We cannot cure it simply by prohibiting it, or solely by saying: 'Thou Shalt Not.' 'Cities are constantly getting larger, city life more intense. Streets are becoming increasingly the playgrounds. Are we to continue to endure solely the reign of commercialized amusements for our children? Is it not time to make possible the proper gratifications of youth in 'our town'?"

Ellenville, July 8.—Every seat was taken at the testimonial opening of the Shadowland Theater Saturday evening, under the auspices of a large citizens' committee as an expression of appreciation to the Shutter Theater Company, whose initiative and progressiveness made possible the erection of this beautiful theater in Ellenville. The following program was given. Opening address by Judge William D. Cunningham; special offering, Mrs. Cunningham appeared in a solo dance and also arranged for two other local acts. There were in addition to several pictures a vaudeville performance, which included the Prince Ilma Quartet, the McGinty Kids and Nelson Marsh, a clever monologue artist, all of New York. It was altogether a very delightful affair and one that pleased the large audience.

The communion service was observed at the M. E. Church Sunday morning with reception of members. At the evening service the pastor, the Rev. Charles A. Dann, delivered a splendid sermon, the theme of which was "Our Country."

The Fourth passed quietly in Ellenville except at the West End, some unusual disturbance to neighbors' property caused the arrest of several wrong doers and the result of which will be settled in court. The races on the driving park grounds were enjoyed by a crowd. There were races in the 2:20 class, one in the 2:30 class and a name race followed between horses owned by John Burlington, L. A. Hoornbeek, E. P. Terwilliger, M. H. Waxmer, Simon Kushner and Homer Kuhlmann. James Reifers, of the Olympia Confectionery, and his brother, Arthur, who conduct a store on the corner of Canal and Main streets, have purchased through the Terwilliger agency the well known Stoeb property on Canal street, "The Hub," now occupied by Mrs. E. H. Munson as a drug store and ice cream parlors and by Kilner as a fancy goods store, with residence overhead, occupied by Mrs. Munson.

WRECKED CAR WAS GOING VERY FAST

Survivors of Car Wrecked On Ashokan Boulevard Estimate Its Speed Over Forty Miles An Hour.

Isaac Kornburgh was the real name of the man who was killed when his automobile went over the embankment at Castle's Corner on the Ashokan Boulevard Wednesday morning. He was also known as Isaac Leichter which name he had adopted after the second marriage of his mother, and under which name he carried on the glass business in New York city.

Kornburgh, or Leichter, was well to do and at the time he was killed he carried a considerable amount of money. He also carried a valuable watch, several valuable rings and a check for a large amount. He was married and is survived by his wife and one child.

Samuel Kornburgh, father of the dead man, who resides at Montreal, Canada, arrived in town Wednesday afternoon, accompanied by Al. Radin of New York city, a brother-in-law of the victim of the accident and several other members of the family. They arranged with Undertaker W. Norman Conner, who took charge of the body after the accident, to have the remains taken to New York city this morning by automobile hearse and the funeral and interment will take place there.

Max Schindler, Henry Olkin and Emanuel Levy, the three men who were with Kornburgh when the accident occurred, are still at the Benedictine Sanitarium, under the care of Dr. Harry P. Van Wageningen of John street. They rested comfortably Wednesday night and are slowly recovering from the shock. On account of their broken bones, they will remain at the sanitarium for some time. They had been spending the summer at the Breezy Lawn Hotel at Fleischmanns, where Kornburgh was also staying, and had accepted his invitation to accompany him to New York, where he intended to buy a new automobile with which he intended to return to Fleischmanns.

The surviving members of the party are of the opinion that at the time Kornburgh's car attempted to make a turn at Castle's Corner, it was traveling at the rate of between forty and fifty miles an hour. The turn at that place is considered one of the most dangerous on the entire Ashokan Boulevard, and motorists who are acquainted with it usually make it at a slow rate not only because of its sharpness but also because of the impossibility of seeing a car coming from the opposite direction until it is at the turn.

JOHNSON MAY STUMP COUNTRY

Genuine Appreciation At Harding Headquarters of Import of California's Following: His personal magnetism and his eloquence.

A pledge of support "by the whole Taft family" has been received by Senator Harding from Halbert Taft, editor of the Cincinnati Times-Star.

"You have the best wishes of all the Taft family and, of course, can count upon our most earnest support in the campaign," Halbert Taft wrote.

Senator Harding, replying said: "It gratifies me very greatly to know that I have the best wishes of all the Taft family and the Times-Star."

Former President William Howard Taft took no part in the pre-convention campaign. He telegraphed his congratulations to Senator Harding after the latter's nomination. Robert Taft, son of the former president, was active in the support of Herbert Hoover during his pre-convention campaign.

General Leonard Wood is expected here next week for a conference with Senator Harding. Following that conference it is likely that a statement of support of the Republican ticket will be issued by General Wood and an appeal made to his following to get behind the Republican nominee.

This will leave Senator Borah of Idaho the only leader in the Chicago convention unpledged in a public statement to the support of the Republican ticket. The Harding campaign managers here today expressed the hope that Senator Borah will not delay long his public declaration in the interest of the Republican nominee.

Senator Harding is declining invitations to make addresses and attend meetings that he may work on his speech of acceptance. Sticking to his habits as an editor, he is writing his speech with a lead pencil on a pad. He does not like to dictate and he cannot use a typewriter. When completed, the speech will be set in type for distribution.

PLAN RECEPTION TO ROOSEVELT

Dutchess County Will Give Democratic Vice Presidential Nominee a Rousing Welcome When he Returns to Hyde Park—Candidate Not Yet 40 Years of Age.

Dutchess county is already planning for a rousing home-coming reception to Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic nominee for vice president. Mrs. James Roosevelt, mother of the vice-presidential nominee, will be consulted as to her wishes in the matter. Mrs. Roosevelt resides at Hyde Park.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was born in Hyde Park January 30, 1882, the son of James and Sarah Delano Roosevelt. He is a distant relative of Col. Theodore Roosevelt on his father's side, and of the Astor family through his mother. He attended the Groton School and then matriculated at Harvard, receiving his A. B. degree in 1904. He was graduated from the Columbia Law School in 1907, and was admitted to the New York State Bar in the same year. He practiced at first with Carter, Ledyard & Milburn of New York, and later became a member of the firm of Marvin, Hooker & Roosevelt. He had expected to resume his practice in New York city upon the expiration of Mr. Wilson's administration, and had made preliminary arrangements to do so before leaving for San Francisco.

Mr. Roosevelt married Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, a niece of former President Roosevelt and a daughter of Elliot Roosevelt, in 1905. They have five children. Mr. Roosevelt is a member of the City, Harvard, Knickerbocker and Racquet and Tennis Club of New York city and the Army and Navy, Metropolitan and University Clubs of Washington. He is a member of the Masonic fraternity, and of the Naval History, the New York Historical and Holland Societies.

Mr. Roosevelt first sprang into his political prominence in 1910 when he was drafted by the Democrats of the 28th New York state senatorial district to oppose Senator John F. Schlosser of Beacon, who was running for re-election on the Republican ticket. Mr. Roosevelt was successful, carrying the second district of Dutchess county and Columbia county by sufficient majorities to discount the lead which Senator Schlosser had polled in the first district of Dutchess and Putnam. Mr. Roosevelt was re-elected in 1912, but resigned his seat March 17, 1913, to accept the appointment as assistant secretary of the navy under Josephus Daniels. His most famous exploit in the state senate was his successful leadership of the insurgents who for three months opposed the election of William F. Sheehan as United States senator until finally the name of James A. O'Grady was suggested and accepted when Mr. Roosevelt approved it.

Mr. Roosevelt is the second Dutchess county man to be nominated for the vice presidency, the other being the late Levi F. Morton.

TWO INJURED AT RHINEBECK

Rhinebeck, July 8.—Two persons were injured here early yesterday because, it is alleged, the chauffeur of one automobile was driving on the wrong side of the road. The Hudson Valley Association is composed of David Kessler of Bethlehem, Pa., containing Mr. Kessler, his wife and two children and the chauffeur, was being operated on the left side of the state highway three miles north of this village. Mr. Kessler and Clayton Koch, of Nassau, driver of the other car, were taken to the Thompson House Hospital, suffering bad cuts about the face. Mr. Kessler's cuts, it was said, were so extensive that fully fifty stitches were taken to close them. He lost several teeth, also. Dr. Cookingham of Red Hook and Dr. Brown of Rhinebeck, attended the injured.

Several eye-witnesses vouched for the fact that Kessler's car was improperly driven. When Koch saw Kessler's machine, he turned out to the left, it is said, and at the same time, Kessler's chauffeur turned to the right. As a result, both machines came together, throwing out Kessler and Koch, and badly shaking up Mrs. Kessler and the children.

Mr. Koch was driving a Hudson, the other car was a Buick. Both machines are beyond repair, having been completely wrecked.

TWAALFSKILL'S DAY AT GOLF

On Saturday, July 10, the Twaalfskill Club will be hosts to the Hudson Valley Golf Association for the regular annual "Day at Golf." The Hudson Valley Association is composed of the clubs from Yonkers, Middletown, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Palisades and Kingston. The match on Saturday at the Twaalfskill Club is the third "Day at Golf" for the current season.

There are three classes of players, viz: A, B and C, the different classes being represented by players having varying handicaps. There is a prize for the winner in each class.

The local golf committee is very anxious for a large representation of Kingston players and particularly request that during the coming week all who intend to play in the match endeavor to get in as much practice over the links as possible and be sure to turn in their scores at the club house so that their handicaps can be fixed.
